FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

‘Inside the Orchestra’ Pulls at Your Heartstrings at Denver International Airport

DENVER – Dec. 22, 2017 – Denver International Airport (DEN) has partnered with Inside the Orchestra for the airport’s newest art exhibit that features music education in Colorado and a variety of musical instruments. The display cases are located at the northeast end of the Jeppesen Terminal on Level 5, through March 2018.

The exhibit displays include a child and adult cellos, French horn, trombone, violin, clarinet, handmade instruments and conductor’s tools. The educational and musically themed exhibit is inspirational and celebrates a melodically unique Colorado non-profit organization.

Established in 1958, Inside the Orchestra brings interactive, immersive orchestra programs to Colorado children. Educational programs, such as Tiny Tots, Inside the Orchestra for Schools, and sensory-friendly programming, serve an average of more than 20,000 people each year.

About Inside the Orchestra

Inside the Orchestra, formerly known as the Junior Symphony Guild (JSG), is celebrating a rich history of 60 years dedicated to supporting and providing music education in Colorado. The Guild was established in 1958 by a group of “junior” (40 and under) aged women whose original mission was to support classical and symphonic music programs in the Denver metropolitan community. Currently, Inside the Orchestra supports multiple counties in Colorado with seven active programs, offers bilingual educational options and works with professional musicians. About DEN’s Art and Culture Program

DEN’s Art and Culture Program administers the City and County of Denver’s “one percent for art” ordinance which enhances public places and features nearly 40 site-specific works including sculptures, murals and other installations. The pieces are displayed in outdoor landscapes, inside Jeppesen Terminal and on airport concourses, as well as in the train tunnels and on the train itself. In addition to its permanent art collection, DEN curates temporary exhibitions, collaborating with museums, cultural institutions and arts organizations to present the highest quality two- and three-dimensional work. Denver International Airport is the 18th-busiest airport in the world and the sixth-busiest airport in the United States. With 58.3 million passengers traveling through the airport each year, DEN is one of the busiest airline hubs in the world’s largest aviation market. DEN is the primary economic engine for the state of Colorado, generating more than $26 billion for the region annually.
