FRONTIER AIRLINES EXPANDS LOW FARES
TO 90 PERCENT OF THE U.S. POPULATION
21 NEW CITIES, 85 NEW ROUTES, $39* FARES

Americans Expected To Save More Than $1 Billion Annually

DENVER - Frontier Airlines has announced a significant network expansion adding 21 new cities which will increase the number of destinations served by the low-fare carrier by 30 percent and double the number of total routes. By next spring, Frontier will offer low fares to 90 percent of the U.S. population, which is expected to bring more than $1 billion dollars in savings to consumers through lower airfares. To celebrate the announcement, Frontier is offering limited time fares from $39*.

“We are proud to announce the nationwide expansion of our unique brand of Low Fares Done Right which will empower millions more people to afford to fly,” Barry Biffle, president and CEO for Frontier Airlines, said. “We project this will save our customers over a billion dollars annually on their flights. These new flights will allow us to serve even more of America and make flying a truly affordable option.”

Highlights of the announcement include the following:

- Twenty-one new cities (eight on sale today), about a 30 percent increase in cities to 82 cities
- Eighty-five new routes (forty-nine on sale today)
- Nonstop routes nearly double by Summer of 2018 to 314
- Total routes (including connections) grow to well over 1000 by Summer 2018 (more than double the current number of total routes)
- Expansion of winter service to warm weather destinations with significant growth in Tampa, Miami, Orlando, Fort Myers, Fla., and Cancun, Mexico

Today Frontier has also extended its schedule with all flights on sale through April 7, 2018.

“Customers will benefit not only from the broad new selection of nonstop routes, but our growing network will provide more than 1,000 new connecting route options,” Biffle continued. “By taking advantage of our natural share of connecting passengers, we can offer our low fares to even more of America. This is particularly important through our largest hub and our home in Denver.”

“By expanded its service, Frontier’s number of destinations served nonstop from Denver will grow by an incredible 40 percent,” said Patrick Heck, DEN’s chief commercial officer. “These additions also mean that DEN will have competitive service - two or more carriers - to 49 of our top 50 domestic destinations, and three or more carriers in 44 of our top 50 domestic destinations. These expanded service options are great news for consumers flying to or from the Mile High City.”

Frontier is focused on more than low fares. The carrier offers customers the ability to customize their travel to their needs and budget. For example, customers can purchase options a la carte or in one low-priced bundled called the WORKSsm. This bundle offers Frontier’s most popular options for as low as $59 each way and includes refundability, a carry-on bag, a checked bag, the best available seat, waived change fees and priority boarding.
