DENVER – March 11, 2021 – Out of hundreds of submissions by both professional and amateur photographers, 35 Colorado-based artists have been selected for Denver International Airport's (DEN) newest photo exhibit, My Colorado: Architecture. The exhibit is part of Denver's March 2021 Month of Photography biennial festival, that celebrates photography and exhibition opportunities for artists.

The My Colorado: Architecture exhibit captures images of inspiring architecture within urban settings, the Eastern Plains and the Rocky Mountains. The exhibit features a variety of Colorado architectural structures that are just as diverse as the landscape itself. MY COLORADO: Architecture at DEN is located on Concourse A, just beyond the bridge security checkpoint.
